Temple Of Justice

Knox county is much better off under the present salary law of county officials according to the figures given out Friday at the court house.

Under the old law all surplus in the various county offices went to the officeholders. According to the present law all moneys remaining in the hands of the various officials, after all of the expenses of the office and salaries have been paid, is paid over to the county.

During the present week the sum of $7,400 was paid over to the county by the various officials as follows: County auditor $2,800, treasurer $1,500, probate judge $1,300, recorder $1,100, clerk of courts $450, sheriff $250.

It will be noticed that all officials have been paid their salaries and have carried on the expenses of their offices and still there is a surplus to be paid over to the county.

OFFICERS

Are Elected By The Pet
Stock Association

Next Poultry Show The Second Week In December 1912

A very interesting meeting of the Knox County Pet Stock and Poultry Association was held on Thursday evening with a good attendance. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—Charles E. Sharp.
First Vice President—George Morgan.
Second Vice President—Earl Thuma.
Secretary—John R. Gamble.

Treasurer—Saurin Aisdorf.
Superintendent—William Adams, Jr.
It was decided at this meeting that a comparison show be held at the next show instead of a score-card show as has been the case in past years. This arrangement is not only more convenient, but is thought to give the good birds a chance to be classed as such. It was also decided to hold the show the third week in December, 1912, in order to escape the extreme cold weather.

TOOTHACHE DRUNK

Is The Latest Thing Up In The Neighboring City Of Mansfield

(Mansfield Shield)
"Hello Billy!" said Sherman Gibson to Mayor O'Donnell this morning as he was brought into the mayor's court by Chief Feeney to stand trial on the charge of intoxication. The mayor grinned and began operations. Gibson was arrested Thursday evening by Officers Stahl and Adams on Vale avenue. A report was received at the station that a man was lying in the snow and should be looked after. An auto was summoned and he was taken to the station. He stated that he was born in Ohio, is a polisher by occupation, single, and 46 years of age. He pleaded guilty to the charge against him and was fined $2 and costs.

Gibson sprung something of a surprise when he stated that it wasn't really his fault that he had gotten drunk and explained that it was a "toothache drunk."

"That's a new one on me," said the mayor. "What sort of a drunk do you call that?"

"Why, you see I had a toothache and after doing everything I could for it, I developed a 'toothache drunk,'" said Gibson.

In spite of his explanation and the genial greetings he tendered the mayor on his arrival in court, the fine stood and he was sent below to keep the mayor of Windsor company.

STORY TOLD BY GIRL

Leads To The Arrest Of Two Men Friday Evening

Alleged One Of The Men Was In A Residence

And Thrust Revolver In Face
Of Little Girl

Two Strangers Arrested At
The Camp Factory

And Are Locked Up In The County Jail

Ohler Landis, a stranger in the city, was taken into custody by the police on Friday evening at about 7:30 o'clock at the Camp glass factory and was locked in the county jail and slated "held for warrant." Shortly afterward a man giving his name as Frank Williams was also arrested at the Camp Glass factory on a vagrancy charge. He was lodged in the county jail.

The arrest of the men resulted from a story told by the small daughter of Mr. George Storey, residing at 311 North Norton street. The girl, according to her own story, arrived at her home after having been absent for a time and entered the house at the front door. This was about 7 o'clock and darkness had fallen. The girl said she saw a man in the house and that he had a revolver in his possession at the time. Fearing that the man would injure her, the girl said that she ran from the house and stopped a man walking along the street and told him of the intruder in her home. The man went to the store of Councilman Robert L. Cole from which place a notice was sent to the police. Officers hastened to the Storey home. On arriving there no man could be found about the house or premises so the search was continued to the Camp Glass factory which is more or less a hold-out for "hoboes" owing to the warmth coming from the melted glass. At the factory Landis was arrested and a revolver was found on his possession while Williams, who was also arrested, was unarmed.

The story told by the girl is discredited to a certain extent by neighbors as no person was seen to enter or leave the Storey residence.

PACKAGE

Vanishes Mysteriously

Pittsburg, Penn., Jan. 27.—Officials of the Wells-Fargo Express company are investigating the mysterious disappearance of $8,000 while in transit from here to Butler on a trolley car Wednesday night. General Superintendent T. M. Dewitt, of Cleveland, and Division Superintendent W. F. Wallis, of Akron, who came here as soon as the loss was reported, outside of admitting that the money is missing and stating that they expect some very interesting developments in a short time, they would say nothing.

The bag containing the money was among a number of other packages received for by the messenger, who took Wednesday night's shipments to Butler, where the Wells-Fargo people make connection with steam railway on their Pittsburg business.

When the messenger reached Butler the money package was not with the others.

Complete Surprise
For Mrs. James Beach

About twenty-five friends and neighbors called at the home of Mrs. James Beach, North Mulberry street, Friday evening, to remind her of her birthday anniversary. Each one presented Mrs. Beach a birthday card for her to guess but to her they all looked alike and acted alike. After a half hour spent with no results each unmasked, then the surprise began. Many of the costumes were ancient and picturesque. After a pleasant social hour refreshments were served, at the conclusion of which, Rev. R. Anna Sheldon, state superintendent of mercy of the W. C. T. U., in a few well-chosen remarks, presented Mrs. Beach with a beautiful spoon. Again surprised and moved by the act of her friends, Mrs. Beach responded by saying that she valued the spoon greatly, but she valued more the act which prompted it. After an earnest prayer by Rev. Mrs. Sheldon, the pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of a song.

EIGHTEEN

Prisoners In Pen Confirmed
In Episcopal Church

Philadelphia, Penn., Jan. 27.—Eighteen male prisoners at the Eastern Penitentiary were confirmed in the Episcopal church today by Bishop Rhinelander, of the diocese of Pennsylvania. Among them were three with sentences ranging from 18 to 30 years, another without legs, and several who will not leave the prison for six or seven years.

A special room was prepared for the services, which lasted for more than an hour. As the prisoners, garbed in their bluish suits, entered, the hymn "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" was sung and it seemed as though each man tried to outdo his comrades in the lustiness with which he sang.

When the time came for the laying on of hands by Bishop Rhinelander, the prisoners were divided into groups of six and walked reverently to the table near which the Bishop stood. The responses were made in clear tones.

In his talk to the prisoners Bishop Rhinelander urged that they continue to lead better lives and dwell upon the solemnity and importance of the confirmation rite.

CORN CROP DAMAGED

If this damage is not exaggerated it means that the annual loss to farmers of the state is something in the neighborhood of $20,000,000. The corn crop in 1910 was 144,540,000 bushels, valued at approximately $66,500,000.
